HONOR TO OUR WORKMEN

Whom shall we call our heroes,
To whom our praises sing?
The pampered child of fortune,
The titled lord of kings?
They live by other's labor—
Take all and nothing give;
The noblest type of manhood,
Are those who work to live.
Then honor to our workmen,
Our hardy sons of toil—
The heroes of the workshop
And monarchs of the soil.

Who spins the earth with iron
And rears the palace dome?
Who creates for the rich man
The comforts of his home?
Is't he the patient toiler—
All honor to him then!
The true wealth of the nation
Is in her working men.

For many barren ages
Earth hid her treasures deep,
And all her giant forces
Seemed bound as in a sleep;
Then Labor's anvil chorus,
Broke on the startled air,
And lo! the earth in rapture
Laid all her riches bare.

'Tis toil that o'er nature
Gives man his proud control,
And purifies and hallows
The temples of his soul.
It scatters foul diseases,
With all the ghastly train;
Puts iron in the muscle,
And crystal in the brain!

The Grand Almighty Builder,
Who fashioned out the earth,
Hath stamped his seal of honor
On Labor from its birth.
In every angel flower
That blossoms from the sod,
Behold the Master-touches,
The handiwork of God.

A LADY'S OPINION OF A LADY'S MAN.
—Mrs. Stephens, in her Monthly Magazine, gives a certain class of men, the like of whom are seen in every community, the benefit of her opinion as follows:
"Our own private opinion of a lady's man is that he is thoroughly contemptible—a sort of a life hardly worth thinking about—a handful of foam drifting over the wine of life, something not altogether unpleasant to the fancy, but of no earthly use. A woman of sense would as soon be put to sea in a man-of-war made of shingles, or take up her residence in a card house, as dream of attaching herself to a lady-killer. Women worth the name are seldom deceived into thinking a lady's man the choicest specimen of her sex. Whatever their ignorance may be, womanly intuition must tell them that the men who live for a great object, and whose spirits are so firmly knit that they are able to encounter the storms of life—men whose depths and warmth of soul feeling resemble the current of some mighty river, and not the bubbles on its surface, who, if they love, are never smitten by mere beauty of form and features—that these men are more worthy even of occupying their thoughts in idle moments than the fops and men about town with whose attention they amuse themselves. If we were to tell him this he would only laugh; he has no pride about him, although full of vanity; and it matters not to him what we broadly affirm or quietly insinuate. Soft and delicate though he is, he is as impervious to ridicule as a hod carrier, and as regardless of honest contempt as a city alderman. Were you to hand him this article, he would take it to some social party, and read it aloud in the most mellifluous voice, as an homage to his own attraction."

WOMAN.—Look at the career of a man as he passes through the world; at a man visited by misfortune! How often he is left by his fellow men to sink under the weight of his afflictions, unheeded and alone! One friend of his own sex forgets him, another abandons him, a third, perhaps, betrays him; but woman, faithful woman, follows him in his affliction; she braves the changes of feelings; of temper, embittered by the disappointment of the world, with the highest of all virtue; in resigning patience ministers to his wants, even when her own are hard and pressing; she weeps with him for his distress, in his distress, and is the first to catch or reflect a ray of joy, should but one light up his countenance in the midst of his sufferings; and she never leaves him in his misery while there remains one act of love, duty or compassion to be performed. And at last when life and death come together, she follows him to the tomb with an ardor of affection which death itself cannot destroy.

Ristori will come to Kentucky in February.

Spare Moments.

A lean, awkward boy came one morning to the door of the principal of a celebrated school in England, and asked to see him. The servant looked at his shabby clothes, and taking him to be a beggar, sent him round to the kitchen. The boy did as he was told, and soon appeared at the back door.
"I should like to see Dr.," said he. "You want a breakfast, more like," said the servant, "and I can give you that without troubling him." "Thank you," said the boy; "I have no objection to a bit of bread, but I should like to see Dr.—if he can see me." "Some old clothes, may be you want," said the servant, again looking at the boys patched trousers. "I expect he has none to spare, he gives them all away," and without minding the boy's request, she went about her work.

"Can I see Dr.," asked the boy again, after eating his bread and butter. "Well, he's in the library, if he must be spoken to; but he does like some time to himself," said the girl in a peevish tone. She seemed to think it very foolish to admit such an ill-looking lad into the doctor's presence, however, she wiped her hands and told them to follow her, she said, "Here's somebody, sir, who much wishes to see you, and so I let him in."

We do not know how the boy introduced himself, or how he opened his business; but we know that after a while the principal laid aside the book he was reading, took up some Greek books, and began to examine the new comer. The examination lasted some time. Every question which the doctor asked was readily answered. "You certainly do well," said the principal, looking at the boy from head to foot over his spectacles. "Well, my boy, where did you pick up so much learning?"

"In my spare moments," answered the boy. Here was a poor, hard-working boy, with few chances for schooling, yet nearly fitted for college by simply improving his spare moments.

Leap Year.

The ladies must not forget that this is leap year, and that the peculiar privileges of leap year continue throughout the year 1868. All the etiquette of the sexes is reversed. It ladies wish to walk or ride with gentlemen, to dance at balls, or escort them home from parties, to attend church, concerts, or treat them to ice cream, they have the right to ask, or rather command everything, for it is not to be supposed that a refusal in such a case is within the bounds of possibility. But the greatest and most important privileges of leap year must not be forgotten. There are thousands of bashful bachelors, old and young, who look hopefully to leap year, and are waiting to be asked. They are anxious to have some fair one to do what they will never have the courage to do themselves—pop the question. They want to get married, but lack the courage to say so. Nothing but leap year can save them from the most gloomy and horrible fate. The ladies must take pity on these forlorn, buttonless wretches, and not forget that, if they go unmarried another three years, it will be theirs to answer for. Common coquetry and setting of caps won't do. It is a right up and down business, and the old blades not only expect to be asked, but are waiting for it with the greatest anxiety and impatience. If there are any bachelors left in this community on the first of January, 1869, it is easy to see whose fault it will be.

Marriage Fees.

A clergyman rarely looks at a marriage fee when it is handed to him, but quietly slips it into his pocket, and knows not the amount until on reaching home he passes it over to his wife—to whom it is customary to give it, and to whom it properly belongs. Hence arise mistakes, sometimes pleasant and sometimes unpleasant. For example: "Rev. D. M., married a sailor, who, as he was leaving the house, put a coin in his hand. It proved to be an old fashioned copper cent. The doctor thought that it was rather queer and an exception to the proverbial generosity of seamen, but soon dismissed the subject from his mind. Three years elapsed, when his door bell rung one morning and the identical sailor appeared with a chest of tea, a bag of coffee and some tropical fruits—worth in the aggregate about twenty dollars. "You remember marrying me," said he, "and you remember praying that Betsy would make me a good wife. I knew not whether your prayer would be heard, or whether I had or had not made a good bargain. But it was heard. Betsy is a first-rate girl; has been true to me; and now returning from a long and prosperous voyage, I have brought a marriage fee, which I want you to accept," which the doctor failed not to do, with hearty thanks to the giver.

In North Carolina the women carry nails in their stockings.—Raleigh Progress.
Nothing wonderful. The ladies of Forsyth carry calves in their stockings.—Observer.
And one of our ladies "carries her corns in hers."—Rome Commercial.

The ladies in this vicinity who sympathize with Andy Johnson in his fight with the Radicals, carry V-tees in their stockings, which are seldom passed over their heads.—Virginia Sun.

Down this way some of them not only carry calves in their stockings, but also bran to fatten them.—Mexico Mes.

Almost all the ladies hereabouts carry Bunyan's works in their stockings. We consider that a sock-dollar.—Union Sen.

We'll take "stock-in" the foregoing. Our ladies have been known to place delicate cords and happiest veins in theirs, while on the light fantastic toe. Bin. Rep.

Some of our factory girls carry holes in theirs, principally, and don't seem to care a darn either.—Man. Union.

Oh shoot! It is utterly bootless to tell such yarns. We can do a bigger feat every day in the week, and not get badly jammed in the operation.

BEAT IT, WHO CAN!—Mr. Thomas Sorber recently made a bet of $20 with Mr. Reily, of the Butler House in this city, that he could cut eight acres of wheat with a cradle between sunrise and sunset. Last Friday was the day appointed for the trial, and the farm of Mr. Sorber, the place chosen. The announcement that such a bet had been made, drew together a number of farmers, and side bets prevailed largely among the spectators upon the result. He actually cut nine instead of eight acres, and completed the day's labor nearly an hour before sun down. The ground was measured by our county surveyor. The field of wheat was an average yield. There are men here who offer to bet that he can cut ten acres in a day. The question is who will take up the glove. To those in other sections of the country we would say, come here when you are in search of harvest hands. We have plenty of farmers here who are not much behind Mr. Sorber, though a majority of them are willing to acknowledge him as their leader in the field.—Butler, Ohio, Paper.

CYNTHIANA, KY.

THURSDAY, Jan. 30, 1898.

Democratic Convention.

The Democracy of this county will hold a Convention for the appointment of delegates to the State Convention, on county court day, in February.

Our County Court.

It is not our desire to find fault or quarrel with this court and its action, nor do we desire to take issue with them on any proposition, which has right and justice, as a basis; but people sometimes start out on the wrong foot, and like a badly drilled soldier they do not know how to catch the right step. This is exactly the condition of our court, and unless they are drilled some little, will never make a change. The magistrates of this county are made up of good and true men, and will not willfully do wrong, in our opinion, although they go astray occasionally. The Legislature has passed an act compelling this court to publish, annually, a statement of the condition of her financial affairs. No statement has been given to the public since 1861, and whenever we hear of its acts, we are informed by some attentive citizen tax-payer, who delights to see the affairs of this county carried on in a safe and legitimate manner.

A statement should be made. The interests of the county demand it. The tax-payers desire to know how their means are appropriated.

One thing has been brought to our notice recently, which is rather peculiar in many respects. Is it a fact that the Harrison Academy, situated in Cynthiana, has become an eleemosynary institution? And are we as a county to be taxed annually for this slab-sided concern, without our consent? It seems that such has been the case heretofore, but it is our business now to know how long the people are to continue paying taxes to support such an institution.

The Legislature, nor the people of this county, have never authorized our courts to make any appropriations for the support of teachers, professors or other people who may be employed by the trustees of this institution. But it seems from all we can learn at the county clerk's office, that about four years ago under Judge Broadwell's administration of affairs, an appropriation of three hundred dollars was made to employ teachers, which was taken out of the money collected as taxes from the people of this county. It seems that the trustees had employed people, as teachers, and had bound themselves to give a larger salary than the receipts of the school justified, and then they asked the county court for an appropriation, which was granted, to assist them out of a difficulty. And another thing, these large salaries were given to favorite teachers, when just as good people, and as favorably qualified, proposed to take the school and would be satisfied with the receipts and no more. Such is our information of affairs under Judge Broadwell's administration.

Then here is a precedent for wrong doing, and had it ended there nothing more would have been heard of it, but recently our county court made another appropriation for this concern, of one hundred and fifty dollars. The county court, it seems, have the power to appoint the trustees of this academy, and if we have been informed correctly, the county Judge by virtue of his office belongs to the board of trustees. Some months since a gentleman was employed as principal of this academy at the exorbitant price of sixteen hundred dollars. We believe that the teacher remained but one term, and then called on the trustees for a settlement. The receipts of the school was not sufficient to pay him by one hundred and fifty-five dollars, and the trustees borrowed the money. Shortly afterward the tenure of office, as trustees, expired, and others were elected to fill their places. The county Judge was left to pay the debts of the academy, and the person of whom the money was borrowed called on the Judge for his pay, and as the precedent had already been made, the county court made the appropriation.

The county Judge, in our opinion, had no right to assume the payment of a debt for the county, which was not strictly in accordance with law, and if any has been enacted, we have yet to be informed of it. If it is just for the county to pay teachers in the academy at this place, then every school district in Harrison can demand an appropriation when their trustees fall short in their receipts. And besides that, the academy was not a common school. It was not open to the world—it was a select school, and none but those who were able to pay good prices for education were permitted to attend. This school was not common until the finance was needed, then it was common enough for people to pay taxes to sustain its teachers.

Taxes have become very onerous in the United States. The people pay to the general government nearly seven hundred millions of dollars annually, and they only realize about five hundred millions. It is evident then to every man that we are growing poorer every day—and that taxation is nothing more nor less than confiscation. With these facts before them, we think that our men in office should be very careful when they give away the people's money, that the people owe the debt.

Laughable.

The Louisville Democrat talks about its Democracy as if it had always advocated and sustained that party. We are not astonished at the conceitedness displayed in its columns, but we are surprised that it should assume to be democratic, and for the past three years persistently refused to sustain the nominees of that party. Old Fred Douglas, recently in a lecture in Cincinnati, announced that he was a Democrat from the top of his head to the soles of his feet. The "Democrat" has a right to make a similar announcement. That right we cannot deny. But the people have decided that its Democracy was not simon-pure, and they are the judges. The Democrat attempted to convince the people that they were wrong, (here is another instance where the mouse tried to move the mountain,) but failed, and now it is satisfied that the people were right, and like others of good sense, has joined the Democratic masses. This is the first change the "Democrat" has made since April, 1861. Then it went over to the Lincolnite camp and remained there until the other day when it threw out the Democratic banner. You are welcome Mr. Democrat, but don't talk too much about what you have been, because you will need several dippings yet, to take the "tan" off your hide.

More Light.

We deem it highly important to keep the subject of Gas Works constantly before the minds of our good citizens, until they shall have been completely successful in what they have begun. It is the right way, in all things, especially matters of great importance, to look forward, and not be forever turning around the narrow circle of the past—to try how many of the luxuries of this new age of progress we may reasonably enjoy, and not try how well we can satisfy ourselves with the obscurity and meagerness of the past. A man or a society of men who are perfectly satisfied with what they already have, are in a condition to lose even that they have, while those who are searching for more are pretty sure to get more. And when they have gained a real step in advance, they are not conscious of having made any extraordinary effort to acquire it. The effort, instead of expending strength, adds muscle for a greater trial. So the project which is at present engaging our attention, in the distance looked like a specter from dreamland, but now that we see it within the circle of probabilities, it appears altogether practicable. And the nearer its accomplishment approaches, the less it will seem herculean in its proportions. Only meet the obstacles with a will and they will vanish—they are shadows and not realities. Money vested in Gas Stock does not cease to be property—it has only changed its form. Even if the amount of property in this form does not, for three years, pay as high a return as it might in some other form, it will have made a decided and permanent improvement in the value and the annual returns of property in other forms, as real estate. This consideration is no small matter, and could not be too strongly impressed upon the notice of men of enterprise. Observe how rapidly and constantly the value of rents and the market price of real estate increase in places that have had the "determination to shine" and let people see the light of their enterprise.

We are gratified that the citizens of Cynthiana have responded so liberally to the requirements of this work. But there is still much to do. It will not do to relax the hold nor to look back till the whole work is finished. It is to be regretted that Mr. Solomon has been ill in Paris for sometime and unable to give his personal attention to the business. But he is with us again this week, and it is his purpose now to push forward to a rapid and energetic conclusion of the project. Let all turn out and help him in a vigorous campaign, and then rest till they shall determine upon some further improvement.

We regret to learn that John H. Harney, Esq., senior editor of the Louisville Democrat, died at his residence, in Louisville, on Sunday, January 26, 1898.

From the Clark County, Democrat.

A Word to New Converts.

De mortuis nil nisi bonum—Of the dead speak nothing but good. The third party is no more. Its members—all six of them as Yuba Dam says—met in Louisville last week, held a wake over the emaciated remains, and commended the spirited of the unweped departed to the immortal Democracy which alone is able to convert what was worthless in life into usefulness after death. We do not desire nor will we accept the party as such, but all who acknowledge its flag are cordially invited to join with us in the grand crusade which we are waging against the infidel Turk of Radicalism. Many of them are good men and true who have been misled simply by bad leaders and worse prejudices. That they will make faithful members of the only Constitutional party in the land we do not doubt. A word of caution, however, is necessary. Churches do not choose their pastors, elders, deacons, or stewards from their latest converts. In the first place, they are not fit to fill offices because not yet sufficiently learned in the doctrines to which they have subscribed, nor possessed of that full confidence which would make them respected by the other members of the flock over which they would be placed. In the second place, their seniors in the faith have prior claims which those with whom they have been laboring cannot with justice or consistency ignore. Officers in an army are not chosen from the fresh recruits. The man whose fidelity and fitness have been tested are naturally selected. The Democracy however, are not so particular as either the church or army. They merely require that those who seek promotion shall give satisfactory evidence of zeal in the service and acquaintance with their principles. And although the proselyte who has spent his life in opposition, ought not reasonably to expect all at once to receive that perfect confidence which is given to the veteran who has never faltered, yet if he produces fruit meet for repentance the past is soon forgotten and present usefulness only remembered. There are men in Kentucky whose Democracy is exceedingly young whom we would readily trust, because, satisfied that they have seen the error of their ways and are sincere converts to their new faith. Fellows, however, who, instead of trying to teach others the principles which they profess, are eternally harping on the prospective conduct of those who have been made cautious by being often deceived, must not be disappointed should they fail to get office. We are always satisfied with any true Democrat—no matter what his past has been, and when nominated, immediately consider him the best man for the place. Let our new allies who were lately Conservatives make themselves useful and study the principles of their newly found friends. Above all, let them cease their capriciousness and fault finding. They may rest assured that they will be asked to vote for none who are not earnestly opposed to radicalism. After a while as they deserve the honors, they will receive them. So mote it be. Let them heed these words, written in all kindness and candor.

Diphtheria and a mild form of scarlet fever are prevailing to some extent in New Albany.

We Shall See.

The Washington correspondent of the Richmond (Va.) Register, a radical organ, in noticing a gathering of New York and Eastern politicians in that city, says:

"They unhesitatingly assert that no man can carry New England and the Middle States on the question of the redemption of the five-twenty bonds in greenbacks, for the reason that most of the leading wealthy politicians are loaded down with this class of securities, and they are determined not to have anything but gold."

We shall see whether those "leading wealthy politicians," who are "loaded down" with bonds that they are anxious shall be exchanged for gold, will beat the people. We think not. Men who are not so wealthy, and who are not loaded down with bonds, will have a word or two to say as to who shall be nominated and elected President. They have many more votes, as well as much more honesty and disinterestedness, than the other class.—Cin. Enq.

SENATOR GUTHRIE.—A Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says:

It appears to be now settled that Senator Guthrie, on account of continued sickness, will not take his seat in the Senate this season. Letters are to be written to him by Democratic Congressmen representing the importance of having every Democratic vote cast on the various measures shortly to come before the Senate, and suggesting, therefore the resignation of Mr. Guthrie, to enable the Governor and Legislature of Kentucky to inmediately appoint or elect a new Senator from that State.

Hon. Joshua F. Bell, late of the 1-3 party and one of its ablest members and brightest ornaments, made a speech at the Democratic meeting at Danville on Monday last, in which he announced his intention of hereafter fighting under the Democratic banner.—Lou. Cou.

The license of the last and only remaining coffee-house in town expired a few days since. It was a touching scene to behold the old toppers taking their farewell drinks "slowly and sadly," with heavy hearts and dropping a tear and their last fifteen cents on the counter.—Glas. Times.

Mr. Webber, residing near Sacramento, killed at three consecutive shots, on Christmas day, the unprecedented number of fifty-three partridges. One day last week, Mr. Thomasson, of Calhoun, killed nine partridges, on the wing, at one shot. When the last feat is beaten by any shot in the United States, Mr. T. will try again.—Owensboro Mon.

The Great Medical Annual.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1898, for distribution gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestion it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man, and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calendar. The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian World, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with valuable receipts, humorous anecdotes and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. Send for copies to the Central Manufacturing, at Pittsburg, or to the nearest agent for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The Bitters are sold in every city, town and village of the United States.

FOR SALE.

Privately, my residence and store attached, situated on Main street, in the village of Leesburg, Harrison county, Ky., lying half way between Cynthiana and Georgetown, being ten miles from each place. The said residence is well known as being the old stand of the late John D. Thomas, a merchant of long standing in that place. The property consists of a comfortable brick dwelling, containing 5 rooms, finished neatly with large stoves and wares attached, kitchen and servants room, meat and ash houses and dairy, all built of brick and in perfect order. The grounds consist of

2 1-2 or 3 Acres,

Of land, part in a yard and garden, part in lots. On the latter are all necessary out-buildings, such as stables, buggy and cow houses, corn crib, hen house, lumber room, &c. Also a quantity of fruit trees, some young, some bearing, such as grapes, pears, cherries, apples, peaches, quinces, currants, gooseberries, &c. The yard is a bower of vines, flowers and shrubs; also a never failing cistern, noted for its pure drinking water. Any one wishing such a place would do well to call and examine for themselves. Terms made liberal to suit purchasers. A perfect and unencumbered title made to said property, by Mrs. M. K. THOMAS, Executrix of the late J. D. THOMAS. Dec12tf

PACKAGES! PACKAGES!

A favorite manner of purchasing tickets, in the combination or three number schemes is by the package, which contains all the numbers from 1 to 78, that are placed in the wheel, thus insuring the certainty of having all the numbers drawn out, which are the prizes. We send certificates of packages of tickets for about one half of the cost of the same.

A package of 26 whole tickets at $1 each is $26.00. We guarantee the package to draw $26.00. And send certificate of same for $14.06. The $12 remaining due us we deduct from the prizes drawn in the package.

The Small Fry schemes draw every Tuesday and Saturday—Capital prize $5,000. Tickets $1. Certificates of package of whole $14. If you have been unlucky, give it another trial, and the next time the lucky number may fall to your lot.

Address all orders for tickets to L. D. CRONINGER & CO., Box 673, Covington, Ky.

P. S. Circulars giving a full explanation of scheme, &c., sent free by addressing as above.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS!
The Great Female Remedy for Irregularities!!!
I HAVE tested these Drops in my own practice, over ten years, and do not hesitate to say that nothing has yet been developed by medical research, that acts so powerfully, positively and harmlessly, in cases of female irregularity, as does this medicine. In all recent cases it never fails, while thousands who have been long sufferers, are indebted to it for the boon of health to-day.
Although so powerful and positive, they perfectly harmless, and may be used at all times, except when specially forbidden in the directions.
They have been extensively employed by eminent physicians in France and England, as well as in my own practice, over ten years, and I have yet to hear of the first instance of failure. I could give you testimonials of their efficacy from ladies all over the Northern and North Western States, were they not in their nature, private. Over 100,000 bottles have been sold the last year, and I hope to treat as many sufferers have been benefited. I am well aware that a remedy so potent to remove obstructions, may be used for a bad purpose, but trust that when one bottle is thus used, ten may fall into the hands of really needy sufferers.
To all who suffer from any irregularity; painful, difficult, excessive, offensive or obstructed Menstruation, Leucorrhoea, or the train of diseases that follow, I would say, try a bottle of Dr. Lyon's French Periodical Drops. Being a fluid preparation, their action is more direct and positive than any pills or powders. Explicit directions, bearing my facsimile, accompany each bottle.
They may be obtained of nearly every druggist in the country, or by enclosing the price to C. G. Clark & Co., New Haven, Ct. General agents for the United States and Canada.
DR. JOHN L. LYON.
Practicing Physician, New Haven, Ct. Price $1.50 per Bottle. Mar28-ly

POLLANDS MAGIC BILIOUS POWDERS!!!
THIS PREPARATION IS THE DISCOVERY of the Rev. J. W. Poland, formerly pastor of the Baptist Church in Goffstown, N. H., and a man deeply beloved by that denomination throughout New England. He was obliged to leave the pulpit and study medicine to save his own life, and his Magic Powders are one of the most wonderful discoveries of modern times. It is the great Liver and Bilious remedy, which completely throws in the shade all other discoveries in medicine, and it affords him much gratification that they receive the unanimous approbation of all who have tested them. The Magic Bilious Powders are a positive cure for Liver Complaint, in its most aggravated form, and an immediate corrector of all Bilious Derangements. Excellent for headache, constipation, pimples, blotches, a sallow skin, drowsiness, dizziness, heartburn, palpitation and a most wonderful cure and preventive for Fever and Ague. [We advise all who are troubled with this fearful malady to always keep the Powders on hand for immediate use.]
Here are a few important particulars:
1st.—They are the Great Specific for all Bilious Affections.
2d.—They are the only known remedy that will cure Liver Complaint.
3d.—They are the only known remedy that will cure Constipation.
4th.—The Powders are so thorough in their operation that one package will be all that the majority of those using them will require to effect a cure.
5th.—They are a mild and pleasant yet the most effective cathartic known.
6th.—They are the cheapest and best medicine extant, as they can be sent by mail to any part of the world for the price, 50 cents. Circulars, containing certificates, information, &c., sent to any part of the world free of charge.
Sold by all druggists, or by mail on application to

Family Sewing Machine,
This machine is without a superior in the world. It runs as fast and easy and with as little noise as any first class machine in market. It will sew from the stoutest leather to the finest bank bill, and makes every stitch perfect. It is strong, compact and durable, and will last twenty years, for ordinary family sewing, if not broken by accident or carelessness. But it is useless to parade a long list of the merits of this machine before the public, as the poorest mechanics furnish them in the greatest abundance. All can try this machine by calling on the agent and it will proclaim its own merits.
